Market update – financial services

Remortgage market stimulated by interest rates increases

Our financial services division continues to benefit from having a substantial client bank to service, along with continued client recommendations.

Mortgage market

- House purchase mortgages have fallen back in line with residential property sales market
- Interest rate increases stimulated the remortgage market in 2022
- Lower volumes mitigated by higher average transaction value
- Longer timescales to completion resulting in significant mortgage pipelines
- Bank of England have removed 3% rate increase affordability test which should help first-time buyers

Group revenue from Financial Services
